Did you know that over 90 of Americans currently have a cell phone, and use their service to connect to the Internet every single day? Over 285 million people subscribe to cell phone service in the U.S. alone, and that number is growing at a mind blowing rate. What does this mean to your business? It gives you a brand new, direct way to connect and communicate with your target audience, and the best part of this incredibly profitable method, is that it's virtually UNTAPPED! Listen, have you ever felt like you were in the wrong place at the wrong time, or that you're late to the game and missed out on some of the biggest and greatest opportunities to maximize your profits? Do you ever feel like you're always one step behind the competition, no matter how hard you work on your business? Does it ever seem like you can't get ahead, and you're always missing the "next big thing" simply because by the time you stumble over it, it's been saturated by the entire market and no longer viable? Well, not this time! You're about to get a one-shot opportunity to dominate your niche markets simply by tapping into the popularity of an ever-growing revolution in business.. Mobile Marketing! With millions connecting to the Internet every day from their mobile devices, you can instantly maximize your income just by plugging into this dramatic change in the way that people look for information. In fact, this massive marketing system is a surefire solution to taking your business to the next level. If you spend just a few minutes transforming your website into a mobile-friendly webspace, you will instantly attract MORE visitors which equate to MORE customers, instantly! There's no disputing the fact that this is the fastest, easiest, and most incredibly massive marketing method you'll ever find - guaranteed! But you have to move quickly in order to secure your position, and claim the lions share of traffic. Business owners are growing savvy to this monstrous traffic vehicle, and it won't be long before they're jumping on the bandwagon, scrambling to catch up with the rest of the industry. But if you move on this right now, you will be miles ahead of them with a mobile-friendly website that is designed for maximum conversions! Never again will you deny customers at the door of your website simply because they can't explore your site on their mobile devices. You will be one of only a few in your market who have opened up the doors to mobile users, welcoming in thousands of brand new customers! And believe me, this isn't a temporary fad that is going to fade away..

In fact, mobile browsing is growing at a neck break pace! FACT #1 - The Internet Currently Has Over 2 Billion Users Worldwide The United Nations' International Telecommunication Union said in January, 2011 that over 2 billion people have internet access worldwide. FACT #2 - There Are over 5 Billion Cell Phone Subscribers Worldwide They also said over five billion have cell phone access! That's more than twice as many cell phone subscribers as there are people with internet access! That's even taking into account the fact that multiple people often use the same internet connection, while cell phones are usually used by just one! What does this mean? That there are MORE people connecting to the Internet using their mobile devices than there are people connecting to the Internet from personal computers! And it's no surprise.. With lower cost mobile browsing, and the introduction of high end devices like the iPhone and iPad, people simply prefer to browse "on the go".. And if your business isn't equipped to handle this dramatic shift in communication, you'll quickly find your website falling behind the competition - or worse, no longer 'up to par' with today's standards. But there's something even more important to think about than the sheer number of people who are turning to mobile browsing as their primary way of connecting to the Internet. The vast majority of marketers are not yet taking advantage of mobile marketing campaigns! That means there is almost no competition, and you can easily get your message in front of thousands of potential customers with a virtual ZERO BARRIER ENTRY! There is nothing standing between your business and a massive customer base, just waiting to connect to your mobile based website! Submitted On: 13 Feb 2011 File Size: 145,979.53 Kb
