So why hasnt it caught on? With CPA Marketing money doesn't immediately start falling from the sky however if you stick with it for just a short time you can produce profits that will allow you to live your dream lifestyle. Its true, in fact Im living proof of that. Plus, with CPA Marketing you can get involved with little or no money to invest. Thats right, you can start small, build steadily, and ultimately create a CPA Marketing empire! Getting excited? I certainly hope so! This marketing technique has really made a difference in my life and I honestly believe it will in yours, too. Now lets take a closer look at CPA Marketing so we all know just what Im talking about here. What Exactly Is CPA Marketing? With CPA (cost-per-action) Marketing, you are paid for having a visitor you generated perform an action and thus become a lead for a company. The best way to explain CPA Marketing to people that have never seen or heard of the concept before is by giving you a quick example: Ever see an attractive one page website that says Compare Auto Insurance Quotes and Save 40 or more? That is CPA Marketing. There is a marketer behind that page who will inevitably be paid anywhere on average from $5 to $20 per lead just for having you fill out that form. The action depends on the stipulation set by the advertiser, but it usually includes having your visitor fill out a simple 1-4 page form that includes information such as their email, telephone, and other personal information. There are also CPA offers that collect credit cards for actual products and free trial offers which pay you even more. Heres How CPA Marketing Works: *You sign up with a CPA Network *You pick the offer you are going to promote *You drive traffic either through your website to their landing page OR you can directly route the traffic to their landing page through your unique link *You are paid for each lead that fully performs the action (usually filling in the form with their personal information) Thats all there is to it and right now an increasing number of companies are looking for CPA Marketers due to the increasing amounts of click fraud that cost-per-click (CPC) advertising is experiencing. Companies are increasingly finding that their advertising dollars are not being utilized correctly and many times being wasted primarily because anyone can click a CPC advertisement. With CPA Marketing, an actual action such as filling out a form has to be completed before the advertiser is charged, making it a better deal for them and YOU! Of Course, You Cant Just Jump on the CPA Bandwagon & Make Money on Instinct It just doesnt work. You need guidance from somebody who has been there and succeeded.
