No installation is needed... Just upload it and start using it right away. How it works is there is a Images Folder which is where all the images go. The script will display every image that is inside the images folder including all sub-directories and sub-directory images and you don't even have to do anything special, Just upload your images into the /images/ folder. When an Image is Clicked on it opens the Image to it's full size and resolution inside a new window. Gallery Features: * No Database Required * No Installation Required * Just Upload The Script to your own Server * Just Upload You're Images Into A Folder * Displays Images automatically, no special setting anything up. * Displays Sub-Directories and Sub Images. * Displays Image and Sub Directory Count for each folder. * Images can be ordered by asc or by desc using the Images Name Comes with Simple to use Instructions and No License Restrictions, You can use this script for anything you want either commercially or non commercially, We don't care...
