Dear Friend, Do you have any kind of trouble when it comes to writing E-mails to promote your products or the products of others? Do your promotions just never produce the kind of sales that you know the product is capable of achieving and you don't know why? Or do you try and write articles and not get the response or traffic from them that you thought you would? Do you get confused when trying to figure out how to profitably use personalization, auto responders and how to get your message past the Spam filters? If you answered yes to any of the above questions, don't worry, you're not alone. There are literally thousands of people out there just like you that own websites or newsletters that face the same problems every day. You've probably thought "There has to be some sort of solution to this problem that I can use and embrace to make the whole writing process not only easy and fast but also fun" and you're right! You will learn how to make this YOUR reality in this letter including how to avoid all of the pitfalls that many publishers face. But first you need to know why... Most People Who Own Websites Don't Have A Clue When It Comes To Writing E-Mail Copy Or Article Content Or Getting It Delivered To Their Readers! We both know that there are loads of sites out there that hope to make enough money to be profitable every month using the power of e-mail. The sad truth is that the number of people "intending to profit with e-mail" versus the number of people "actually profiting with e-mail" is pretty sad. You'll find that only about 1 out of 10 site owners hoping to make a profit with e-mail are actually doing so and what's even more disturbing is that only about 1 in 100 site owners are making the profits they intend to on their promotions. I'm sure that you'll agree those are pretty discouraging numbers but don't worry because you are going to learn how to be that 1 in 100 today. When it comes to articles you'll find that only about 1 in 30 articles produces an amount of traffic to the authors site that actually generates any kind of profit. One of the reasons that these site owners don't succeed in their e-mail and article efforts is because they just don't have the "know how" when it comes to writing e-mails or articles that induce purchases or clicks. Another is that they aren't aware of the pitfalls that foil some publishers before they even start. Yet even more publishers fall short on things like auto responders, personalization, setting up a regular mailing schedule and don't profit as a result. I know, you're probably thinking... "What Makes An E-Mail Or Article

Produce Product Sales, Service Sales Or Clicks To My Site?" There is obviously a huge difference between an e-mail or article that produces sales of your products and clicks to your sites versus one that doesn't. The first one, and this is a big one, is the fact that the author has huge amounts of training in writing, journalism or advertorial writing. None of us have loads of time to spend learning journalistic writing so what I'm going to share with you doesn't require that :) The second thing that makes a successful article or e-mail promotion is the fact that the author knows exactly what his or her subscribers want. There's nothing left to question and no "I hope I make a sale" when they put an article or e-mail together because they already know that they are going to make money or generate traffic. How do you find out, with almost psychic precision, what your subscribers or article readers want from you? That's something that I'm going to reveal to you in more detail here in a few minutes. The third thing that gets you more sales, clicks and traffic is the effective use of personalization, auto responders and regular mailing.

Is It REALLY Possible For Me To Write So Well That I Can Generate The Response Of A Well Seasoned Copywriter Or Article Author And Get My Messages Delivered & Read Professionally? I wanted to make sure this question was address right from the beginning. The answer is...There is no doubt that you can write at the level of "professional" without all of the training and YOU CAN get your e-mails delivered and responded to. Use the secret tricks that I'm going to share with you for producing riveting, sales inducing copy and intriguing articles, you are going to learn how to churn out quality content without all of the education and better yet, avoid all the pitfalls that most publishers face!
