Give Your Child The Education They Deserve Right From Your Home, Teach Them More Than High Paying Private Schools Do Learn How To Teach Your Home Schooled Child All Of The Basics As Well A How To Excel In All Areas Of Learning. Dear Parent: If youre reading this letter, I know that you have at least a small interest in teaching your children from home. Dont worry, youre not alone. Millions of people do it and the numbers grow every day. The world has become a bit of a scary place these days, and not all of us are comfortable with sending our baby out into that world alone. Consider the following: National Studies show that 49 percent of schools report some type of crime involving theft, vandalism or physical threats. There are 100 times more guns in the hands of American schoolchildren than is reported.

Students age 12 to 18 were victims of 2.7 million total crimes while at school. Over 3,000 students were expelled from school in the year 2000 for bringing a firearm to school. All I have to do is mention Columbine, Colorado, and you know what school violence can do. The statistics are only rising, and the perpetrators are getting younger and younger. I remember not too long ago hearing on the news about a first grader who had a handgun in his locker and threatened to kill a fellow student if he didnt do what he said. Its shocking and very, very scary for everyone, but especially for you, the parent. What are equally as disturbing are the test scores that our children are getting on standardized tests. No Child Left Behind provided for testing all children to determine their academic performance and insure that all were getting a quality education. The results have been disappointing. In math, our students are performing at just 3 of the world average for the same age students. In English, that percentage jumps a little, but only to 7. Children in other countries are getting better educations than our own kids, and that will eventually hurt us globally. These are just two reasons people cite for choosing to homeschool their children. In fact, the top five reasons given, in order are: God and religion taught along with academics Avoiding school violence Providing a better education Allowing the child to work at his or her own pace Family convenience Its a trend thats becoming more and more popular mainly because it does seem to produce highly educated adults in the long run. But is homeschooling right for you? Perhaps it is! You Want The Best For Your Child Right? Who knows them better than you do? You were their first teacher after all. Why shouldnt you continue as their teacher? If its financially possible for you to stay home and school your children and you want to, theres no reason you shouldnt. So where do you start? Start Here! Right Now! My book, Professor Homeschool is the answer to every parents prayers who is considering homeschooling their children. Its an honest, no-nonsense, easy-to-read manual with all the information you could want to get started educating your child at home. This book will guide you toward making the decision to homeschool, what youll need to know before you start, and so much more! Look at the following: De-Schooling your child Setting up your home for a school area Choosing a curriculum Setting a homeschool schedule And so much more! A lot of parents would love to homeschool, but theyre afraid they just dont have the abilities. Thats Where We Come In! Even if you have no college experience and just a high school diploma, you can still teach your child in the privacy and safety of your own home. Hundreds of people have done it. In fact, most homeschooling parents actually DO NOT have a college degree of any type and their children are flourishing. The key to a good homeschool experience is to let the child take the reins while you simply steer instruction and give input. You dont have to know all there is about the Civil War for your child to learn about the Civil War. Classroom teachers dont know everything. What they dont know, they find out. When you homeschool, your child finds out with you! They learn so much more than what they could find out in the classroom. Look at the proven facts: Homeschooled children score higher than their same-age counterparts on college entrance examinations. Homeschooled children progress to further levels of education than publicly educated children Homeschooled children have a stronger relationship with their family. The advantages are amazing, and there are many more than these few we have listed. When you homeschool your child, you can easily tailor curriculum to their needs and learning style. That adds up to an eager student and a successful school experience! You Can Homeschool Your Child Tomorrow! But first, you need to know a few items about the whole process before you can fully jump in. When you order Professor Homeschool, well give you what you need to know. Order the book today, read it tonight, and have your child home with you getting the education he or she needs within days! Believe it or not, theres a lot that has to be considered before fully starting a home school. Making a schedule Keeping records Reporting to the right agencies, if any How to provide socialization for your child Fitting in everyday life with school Establishing a school identity For the novice, it can be overwhelming. Dont give up on the dream, though. You can get all the information you need and never have to leave your home! When considering homeschooling your child, homeschool yourself with Professor Homeschool! Dont fall for those other homeschool guides that promise you the moon and never deliver. Im giving you everything you need right here. Best Of All, I Guarantee It! More on that a little later, but its true, Im guaranteeing that with Professor Homeschool, youll be well on your way toward implementing a full school right in your own home! Youre going to be dealing with some criticism too, when you decide to homeschool your child. Well even tell you how to deal with those nosy people who really have no right to enter your home life. Friends and family will be there to judge you and your decision. While you know they care, it really isnt any of their business, now is it? Ill tell you what you should say and how you should approach this type of conflict! There are thousands of different places you can find resources for homeschooling as well. Why take hours and hours of your time to find them all when I can give them to you right here in this book? This Book Is Really All Youll Need Making the decision to homeschool is a very personal one. As well it should be! This book is put together in an easy-to-read format that is delivered directly to your inbox when you click the order now button. You could pay hundreds of dollars for a book that doesnt have nearly what I am offering to you.
