people entertain the dream of learning to speak another language, but never actually achieve any type of fluency. Why is that? Is that they simply do not possess the intelligence to learn? Is it that the language is too difficult? Could it be that they really dont want to learn, and therefore do not take the time and effort necessary to reach their full potential? The simple truth of the matter is that most people who dream of speaking another language fail to do so because they are too afraid of failure to risk it. They are so convinced that they cannot learn that they manage to convince themselves, they give up and then they proceed to prove themselves right; they cant learn. Here is what you will learn inside this guide.... * Speak the language with the fluency of a native * Expand your vocabulary so that you are comfortable in any social situation * Understand what people around you are saying, even when they are speaking at a natural pace * Be able to read and write in Spanish as fluently as you would in English * Appreciate other cultures and expand your social circle exponentially! * Teach your friends and family to speak Spanish as well * Master the language much more quickly than you would using any other method available at a
