Do you want to close more sales? How about create stronger relationships with your visitors? You're going to learn the secrets to making all of this a reality without spending any additional money on advertising whatsoever! In a cold Internet world of no relationships, nonexistent customer service and scam artists, its hard to close sales with many of your online visitors. They have a hard time believing in a product or service when they cant talk to the creator. You need to communicate with them on a personal level and create a personal relationship. This creates a strong sense of trust and a bond that will create more business than you could ever dream of... But how do you touch the hearts of your customers and connect with them? Create Trust, Relationships, and Customers At Light Speed... What better way to create a personal rapport with your visitors than to actually talk to them? There is no better way! Most web businesses dont even list an e-mail address on their sites, let alone a phone number! If you're on the phone with them and answering their questions freely, you're going to be seen as the honest John or honest Jane of the market! When you can let people connect with your personality, they develop a new level of connection with you, they feel the bond of friendship emerging. If you can stand out as a human in a world of lifeless WebPages and impossible customer service systems, you are golden! Creating Sales Avalanches Becomes Drop Dead Simple! I want you to picture two situations and tell me which you think would close more sales... Situation #1 You go to a website, read the sales letter and have a few questions. You look around the site with no phone number, postal address or even e-mail address. Eventually you find a Contact Form that gives you no e-mail address but a way to submit a questions to who knows where? Situation #2 You go to a website, read the sales letter and have a few questions. You look around the site and find a phone number to dial into a twice weekly teleseminar that gives you the chance to interact with the product creator and other like minded potential customers. Which would you prefer? Obviously #2 wins by a long shot but the great thing for you is...very few people are doing this! The opportunity is wide open for you to connect with your prospects like never before!
