Headline: There Is One Word That Can Spell The Difference Between Success And Failure For Your Online BusinessEXCITEMENT! Do You Know How To Get Your Prospects Excited? Have You Heard About That One, Important Word That Could Mean The Difference Between A Successful Online Business and A Dismal Failure? Learn all about getting your prospects excited!!! Dear NETrepreneur, Can you pick out the description that could best fit your online business? A. You create and sell your own digital products to targeted Internet consumers. B. You have acquired resale, master resale, or private label rights for selling digital products created by others. C. You are engaged in an affiliate business, promoting other peoples products for hefty commisions. D. You are a JV partner specializing in co-promotions for major marketing campaigns. E. You are a multi-site webmaster enrolled in various PPC programs. The business models I have listed above are all known to be solid and profitable income-generating ventures, if they are managed correctly. But can you tell me what common factor do they all share? If you answered that they all NEED TRAFFIC, then you are correct. Not a single online business will survive without traffic. No matter how good your products are, you cannot sell even a single item if nobody sees them. You cannot promote the cheapest item for your affiliates if nobody is visiting your site. A fully-loaded marketing campaign is worth peanuts if only a handful of people are there to see and hear about it. And PPC? If youre getting only a measly amount of visitors per month, forget about it! Every online business needs traffic, end of story. Its practically the lifeblood of the industry. Any online business will die without traffic. No arguments about this one. There Are 2 Critical Elements That Practically Guarantee A Constant Flood of Visitors To Your Website. Its entirely possible that you have done these before... but until now, I havent seen a single soul actually putting it down on paper for all the world to see, so Im taking the first step... The 2 elements that can assure you of a steady stream of traffic to your website are: 1. Excitement!; and 2. More excitement! Wait... before you start complaining that 1 and 2 are just the same thing, let me cut you off for a second. These two elements are not the same thing. They are two separate, distinctive ingredients, and they will prove to be the turning point in getting your website the traffic it needs. First off... you need to create excitement for people to visit your website.

Tell me: how can you expect people to go to your site if its dull and boring? Depending on your niche, there may be hundreds or even thousands of other sites out there on the World Wide Web, each of them trying to get the attention of millions of Internet users. How would you separate your website from them? I told you - EXCITEMENT. Generate some excitement in your site, and people will flock to it. It will grab them by the throats and wont let go. Your site will practically scream, Hey there! My websites got something that thousands of others dont! It will rock your socks off! Come here and see for yourselves! But wait... once youve generated the excitement, dont sit back and enjoy the view just yet. Youre not finished yet, not by a long mile. You may have created excitement, but its still a looooong way from being complete. Why? Think about it... After the initial excitement dies down, what next? You can be sure that the novelty will wear off. Then what? How long will the hype last? You see it now? Youre going to need continued excitement for your website to continue getting traffic. You must not depend on the initial thrill alone. Always be on your toes and discover new ways to ALWAYS provide excitement to your visitors. Theyll have a hard time staying away, and theyll keep coming back for more. One-time excitement generates one-time visitors... and only one-time sales. But when youve got visitors that keep coming back... whoa! Now thats what Im talking about! Repeat visitors translate into repeat sales.. again... and again! But How Do You Do It? A growing number of online businessmen are catching on the idea of generating excitement and continued excitement for their websites. With their creative minds, they have come up with a number of ways to stir up the fires of their marketing campaigns and capture the attention of their targets: * Giveaways or freebies; * Including huge bonuses with every offer; * Free eZines with loads of great content; * Producing or facilitating eCourses; * Establishing forums on their websites that become centers of lively discussions among visitors or members; * Special offers in relevance to current holidays; * Having a big-time sale with unbelievable discounts every now and then; * Creating a fully-interactive website; * And so much more! These methods all work great, but theres one surefire way to generate excitement thats guaranteed to grab hold of your prospects attention. As a matter of fact, its possible that this is the best and most powerful method of building hype, hoopla, and all that jazz for your website. Contests Are The Best And Hottest Method Of Generating Excitement! Pop quiz, guys. Name a single person who doesnt like joining a contest he knows he can win. You cant find one. Its just human nature to be excited about the thought of winning big in a game of chance or skill. Thats the reason why betting on horse races, lottos and the like are so popular with millions of people all over the world. And thats also the reason why millions more love sports and games, especially when they are able to join the competition themselves. People love competition. And people love to win. Holding a contest gives them a great chance of accomplishing both, dont you agree? The powerful attraction that contests generate in people can be used to generate excitement for your marketing campaign. The hype is going to be amazing! People will flock to your website to view the rules. They will want to look around to find more information about the contest or the other contestants. If you have a forum, they will want to register and discuss strategies, plan their moves, etc. Most important of all, people will want to come back again and again... to see the results, the prizes, and to join the next contest. You see? Holding contests is the most powerful way to generate excitement... and more excitement! Great Idea! But I Dont Know How To Host A Contest! Im with you on that one. Hosting a contest - any contest - is tough. And Im not just talking about the usual preparations and organizational stuff, like the rules, the prizes, etc. What were talking about here is the whole logistics of the contest. Of course, the contest will be held online. Know what that means? Most of the preparations should be automated... or else youre going to have to process each and every entry by hand. Thats no good at all. Then, depending on the size and concept of the contest, youd have to create and install scripts - or even an entire program - so you can incorporate the hosting of the contest into your website. Hmmm.. dont have any programming skills? Youd better kiss this task goodbye, then! Thinking about it, Im just so glad that we dont have to do all that anymore. Its easy pickings from now on. Presenting... Turbo Contest Creator Turbo Contest Creator Create And Host Online Contests Fast And Easy! The Turbo Contest Creator is a terrific program that allows you to create contests, incorporate them into your website, and manage the whole thing from your admin panel. This is how it works: 1. As the Admin, just log in to your account. 2. Start churning out contests - as many as you need. Be sure to set up the descriptions, dates, mechanics, and other information you want. 3. Ask your visitors to join. They will receive a special code in their email, which they will need to complete registration. Hey... now youve got their contact details! As the Admin, youll have the power to approve or decline all registrations, of course. 4. The registered users can now access your site and view the contest details. 5. If permitted, the registered users can submit entries for the contest. Admin can approve or reject all the submitted entries. 6. If permitted, registered users can also vote for or against the submitted entries. The submitted votes can be approved/rejected by you as the Admin. 7. The Admin can set up permissions for registered and non-registered users of the site. The sites contents can only be viewed by users depending on the permissions set by the Admin. Nothing complicated about it! Everything about it is so simple! In fact, you can have several contests up and running, all at the same time, and you can manage all of them from just one central panel! Now you dont have to endure any complicated preparations when you want to hold a contest. Its going to be super fast, super easy, and oh so convenient! You might even want to hold contests all year round! Think about your rival webmaster for a moment and what hes doing... while hes wasting precious time editing his sites source code, your website already has a hot contest up and running! The Turbo Contest Creator is so fast and so easy to use; youll be cranking out contests one after another in just minutes! Theres more to the Turbo Contest Creator than just contests! Hmmm... you think that creating and managing contests is all that the Turbo Contest Creator can do, right? Theres more to it than meets the eye. This software is fully capable of countless other applications; its that powerful. Think of the ways you can use it... Are you looking for a few good men and women? Collect resumes and CVs from applicants using the Turbo Contest Creator. If you have a job website, it works even better! The Turbo Contest Creator can become the engine that runs your whole job site! Use the Turbo Contest Creator as a message box where prospects and current customers can deliver comments, messages, suggestions, project proposals, etc. Heres a good one: using the Turbo Contest Creator as a joke box! Jokes and anecdotes from contributors are submitted to your site via the Turbo Contest Creator. This is a personal favorite your very own freelancing website, powered by the Turbo Contest Creator! Job descriptions are posted instead of contests! Accept bids and proposals instead of entries! You can even accept written content! Enhance your affiliate marketing campaign with the Turbo Contest Creator. You can use it as a calendar, as a distribution system for your marketing materials, and also as a versatile message center for any suggestions and comments from affiliates. And so much more! Yes, creating contests and managing them is the primary purpose of the Turbo Contest Creator. But as it turns out, it can now be used for other important tasks and enhance online businesses due to its powerful and amazingly versatile features. And to think that theres still more applications for the Turbo Contest Creator, waiting to be discovered by the next creative online entrepreneur. Turbo Contest Creator is a PHP/MySQL script. It will work on any server supporting PHP! A manual for the Turbo Contest Creator is also included! Enjoy the power of this fantastic program! Order your copy today!
