

The Big Fat Get My File Download Script

The Easy Way To Disguise Your Download Links! I Know You Need This Script! I did! If you sell ebooks and EMAIL download links to your customers or have download links on your website, then this simple little PHP script is for you! Get My File allows you to disguise your download links to hide the real location of your files. For example, your normal download link may be: mywebsite.com/downloads/my_file.zip Now, there is nothing to stop a data thief from typing mywebsite.com/downloads/ in their browser and stealing all your websites files without paying. But, with Get My File, the download link that you email your customers will be: mywebsite.com/getmyfile.php?file=my_file.zip The link will be disguised and the location of the file will not be revealed! Also, if a data thief tries to browse your downloads folder, it will show an Access Denied message. Its really simple to install! Simply enter the location of your downloads folder into the script and upload it to your web server! Thats it! Requirements: Linux/Unix web server required with PHP 4 or above. NOTE: This script is NOT an automatic digital download script. It is simply a script that allows you to disguise your download links. Ive had this script sitting on my desktop and Ive researched digital download scripts over the last few days.It works beautifully! So, there you have my personal recommendation for this script to protect your downloads either from your website.
