During years of researching markets, applying trading strategies and testing automated systems we came to conclusion that there is no automated system that will analyze market for you. All technical and fundamental issues of Forex trading cannot be placed in code. Market is changing all the time. Strategy that made profit yesterday can be loosing tomorrow. This is Big Guys game and they keep changing its rules and traders need to be flexible in market ideas and methods. Add here todays situation when markets rarely offer a smooth trend. Instead, they usually thrust and retrace frequently, spooking traders out of what eventually turn out to be profitable positions. As a result, a series of small stops often can add up to be bigger a loss than a large stop. All our ideas and research lead us to concentrating on system that can work at any market and in any time of the history. System that is based on pure mathematical algorithm only. And we made such system So now we are proud to present you Expert Advisor for MetaTrader 4 that was developed by group of our traders! FxProMaker Expert Advisor is based on pure mathematic algorithm. It does not need any indicators, or special settings. It opens positions and hedges them until they are closed in profit. During a trend you will get all profit from one position and during rollback you will close another hedged position with profit too. this site sold Value: $600 fxpromaker.com/
