List Magician is a Windows desktop application that allows you to quickly and easily convert a line separated list into a comma separated list at the click of a button. It is literally a push button program. Here is how it works... If you have a list of keywords separated with line breaks that you want to convert into a comma separated list, you simply paste your keywords in the input box located on the left side of the software interface and click the top button with the right pointing arrow. Instantly, a comma separated list appears in the right input box. And vice versa... If you have a comma separated list that you want to convert into a line separated list, you do the exact opposite. You just paste your list in the right side input box, click the button pointing to the left input box, and just like magic, a line broken list is generated!
