Testimonials are extremely easy to get even if you don't have any customers yet. You can use this formula to get powerful testimonials before even one person buys from you and that will actually help you generate sales. Who wants to buy a product that doesn't have any testimonials for it? In this report you'll discover... * How to get people to give you quality testimonials that push your credibility through the roof. You'll discover the simple formula that practically forces people to put some real effort into the testimonials they send you. * How to completely automate the testimonial process. You rarely (if ever) hear anyone talk about this method and it's a shame really because if you had known about this sooner, your sales pages would likely be filled with as many testimonials as you want. * How to get testimonials for products you haven't even started selling yet. After you read this report you will never have to put another "naked" sales letter out there again. * How to get audio testimonials for any product or service you sell. Testimonials are all about credibility and anything you can do to make your readers know your testimonials are from real people just like them will definitely help you get more sales.
