Welcome! We are here to satisfy your training needs and help your organization be more efficient and more productive. With eFront you will discover new ways to perform training tasks easier and faster, while keeping your people actively engaged and in shape. The community edition is offered as open-source and free software so you can download and start using it immediately. Check the functionality matrix for specialized commercial editions for Small companies, Educational institutes and Enterprises. A short list of eFront highlights: * Easy to use explanation eFront was built with the end user in mind. The interface is natural, and easy to navigate. Most options are self-explanatory. * Visually attractive explanation You will appreciate our aesthetic features. We didn't want to build "just another eLearning tool". We built the most beautiful eLearning tool. * Technologically advanced explanation eFront is an Object-oriented, Ajax powered, Unicode, LDAP and SCORM (1.2 and 2004/4th edition) supporting, multilingual eLearning platform. * Pedagogical concepts explanation Integrated to eFront are sound pedagogical concepts that guide users and keep them motivated. * Open Source and Professionally Supported explanation All editions of eFront are offered with their source code. You may download the community edition for free, customize it to your needs, add new functionality and share it with the community. Although distributed as open source, eFront is being supported by a professional team of skilled developers. * Complete explanation eFront includes a wide variety of components that help you create your lesson structure and add content, build online-tests, communicate with others, track users history and progress, conduct surveys, assign projects, and create certifications.
