WHAT IF You Can Have The Ultimate System That Allows YOU To Offer Tons Of Offers Doubling Your Profits Through A Single Download Link? And the best thing yet is that these offers are not necessarily your own products! So What Is Interstitial Advertising? Interstitial implies "in between" which is also called transitional, represents a process of putting whole messages between the current and destination page. Since the internet is such an active place, people have found methods to deal with over-stimulation. One way of getting by is called receptive input filtering. This means that our wits will learn to filter the immense bulk of the contents coming at them. We the viewers, rapidly learn at some level to tell apart banner advertisements or anything that appears similar to a banner ad. We separate out most of the irrelevant interference but we also filter out a lot of the valuable messages. Interstitial ads, like TV advertisements make viewers a captive of the message. Regular interstitials last 10 secs or less. That's 5 to 10 secs of doing nothing but viewing your offers!! The Interstitial Links Manager Is The Absolute Tool That Allows You To: - Control how long each offer last. - Set the sequence of your offers - Allows your visitors to pause/repeat or skip offers - Full page transitional offers before they download - Use it as a short link manager - Use it as a link cloaker - Monitor how many times your offers were viewed - Monitor how many times your download links were clicked. - Manage your links efficiently - Have unlimited offers per campaign = unlimited offers in just one single link ...Plus, So Much More Than Can Be Added Here!
