

Twitter Blaster - Custom Developed - By Me

This is a custom developed, targeted Twitter blast tool I made to promote my own projects. It will run multiple accounts putting your information in front of and/or following targeted users for you fully automated around the clock. How does it work? I've included an easy set of instructions to help you install and get ready. After installing the system you first link at least one Twitter account to the system, add a few search terms and also add a few short messages to use to mention the targeted users with. Every few minutes the system will search Twitter for your search terms, find a user you have not mentioned before and mention them including one of the short messages you saved. Also, there is another process you can use that follows users, shouts them out letting them know your following them and ask them to follow back. Every night it unfollows users who havent followed back after 3 days. This process is similar to TweetAdder but the fact it actually mentions the user makes a HUGE difference! Tags: feeds
