Need a sales letter fast but hate writing & do not want to pay a copywriter? Watch How I Create Stunning Sales Letters That Will FORCE People To Give YOU Money, From Scratch In Less Than 20 Minutes By Simply Filling In The Blanks & Clicking GO! Sales Letters Creator is the Most Innovative Sales Letter Generator Software Application Ever to Be Released! -- No Copywriting Skills Necessary! Everybody knows that a compelling sales letter is the key to a successful Internet business. Without a sales letter that swoons your reader and persuades them to buy, you are pretty much doomed to cyber poverty forever, and I mean that literally. That is how important it is to have an effective sales letter. The Problems With Writing Sales Letters... For marketers who hate to write, spending hours putting together sales letters from scratch is torture! The problem is that writing a sales letter is hard. It takes time and the copy needs to be great to get people to take action. Nothing stops sales dead in its tracks faster than poorly written sales letters. Your sales letter is your digital salesman and if it does a terrible job, you can say goodbye to any chances of you making even $1 online. Whether you want your website visitor to opt in to your newsletter or make a purchase, it all depends on how well your sales letter sells. If you are like me then you probably dread the idea of starting out to create a new sales letter from scratch, or craft a web page to sell your product on the Internet. So Whats A Lazy Marketer To Do? You have 3 options: Option #1. - Hire a Professional Copywriter Professional copywriters are very expensive but in many cases this is the best option - if you can afford it! Copywriter fees vary from $497 to $25,000+. You are almost guaranteed a successful sales letter by hiring a top gun copywriter but if you are just starting out, the 5 figure price tag puts this option out of reach. Option #2. - Write Your Own Sales Letter From Scratch Unless you are a highly skilled copywriter, chances are that you will end up creating a Frankenstein which does not convert. It is perhaps the cheapest option but if you are a terrible copywriter or hate writing, it will not be worth your time and effort. Not recommended at all. Option #3. - Cheat With Push-Button Software You can legally cheat and create great looking sales letters every time by cleverly using software that makes it a breeze to put them together in literally minutes! Sales Letters Creator is the perfect example of this kind of software. You will not find a better quality application of its kind...especially one this affordable! This is the best option for lazy marketers who do not want to pay a copywriter or have no writing talent or time to write. I know which option I would take... #3 of course! Time is money, and anyway, no one wants to strain their brain for hour after hour writing sales letters only to be disappointed by lousy conversions. It makes simple sense that if there is a pre-made format to work with, such as templates that I can use to suit my product or even just to get my words flowing, my final results will be much better. That is why I spent the last few months and thousands of dollars, creating Sales Letters Creator! Even If You Have Never Written A Sales Letter Before, Or Hate The Thought Of Writing From Scratch, Sales Letter Creator Will Always Give You Expert Looking, High Converting Sales Letters In Half The Time!
