Terry Telford and Richard Butler gave a 2 hour teleseminar for the Business Basecamp project. The teleseminar, "Building Your Business From The Ground Up," covered everything the beginning online entrepreneur needs to know about setting up their business. Richard Butler, a certified business and life coach covered what you need to do before you even turn on your computer. Terry Telford, a seasoned internet marketer covered the nuts and bolts of setting up your own business and the tools to make things flow easily. The handout you are about to download is the actual seminar notes that Richard and Terry used to present the teleseminar
