This report will provide practical advice and information on tapping your existing market for the holiday season. The holiday season, or even the weeks leading up to it, is not the time to start thinking about breaking into a new market, in order to take advantage of the huge amount of money being spent online as the world lines up to choose the perfect gifts for their family and friends. There could be an exception to this and that would be if you're going to create your sales using pay per click or some other targeted advertising. But that's a report itself and we won't be covering that here. Instead, you should look to your own backyard for the best possibilities of taking home your share of the holiday shopping boom. It's the people and markets that you already have inroads with that will be the most responsive to your recommendations and ideas. So let's take a look at how you can prime the pump for those gift dollars.
