Auction Interface Complete Fee System Charge users for: Listing Items (set or percentage based) End of Auction Fee (set or percentage based) Picture upload fee Media upload fee Highlighted Auctions Bold Auctions Home Page Featured Auctions Category Featured Auctions Reserve Auction fee Buy it now fee Second Category fee Item Swapping fee Make an offer fee Wanted Ads Advanced Search facility The advanced search facility enables users to search for items by:- Keywords (item title and description) Items with reserve price Items listed with buy it now Items with swap enabled By country/zip code By seller By buyer By store Feedback System Users can leave feedback for each other. The feedback system is "tick" based allowing users to rate other members by choosing a suitable tick rating (1-5). Coloured stars also automatically appear next to a username whenever they reach a new feedback number. You can also easily setup custom feedback fields for additional feedback ratings. Easy Category Browsing PHP Pro Bid features a clearly laid out category browsing system, enabling the user to go directly to their chosen auction hall. Help & F-A-Q Pages User help and F-A-Q text already built into the system. The help and F-A-Q pages can be easily updated or even removed via the admin area. Proxy (auto) bidding system Buyers can place a maximum bid on items, the software will then automatically re-bid for them should their bid be overtaken by a rival bidder. Buy It Now Sellers can accept Buy It Now offers. Make an offer Buyers can now make offers on listed items, this new feature allows potential buyers to make an offer to the seller if the item has not received any bids. The seller can select whether or not to accept such offers and also set the price range they are will to listen offers between. Item Swap PHP Pro Bid is the first auction software package to include Item Swapping. The seller has the option to choose whether or not they want to accept swap offers. If they do buyers have the option to propose a swap deal instead of a bid. The seller then has the option to either accept the swap deal or reject it and continue the live auction. Newsletter Users can select if they want to receive your web-sites newsletter. The newsletter can be sent out via the admin area Ask Seller a Question Potential bidders can ask the seller a question directly. User Stores Users can open their own eBay type stores, upload their company logo and display all their open auctions Anti Sniping An anti sniping feature is built in. This can be enabled/disabled via the admin area.

News Display Easily updateable news items are displayed on the home page

Registration features

Signup Credit If you choose to run the account mode option you can offer new users free credit on their accounts. Customise registration process Via the admin area you can customise the registration process by adding your own custom fields, for example you can use this feature to collect additional user data when registering such as their Business details or the kind of items they are looking for. Seller verification For additional user security you can enable the seller verification feature, this forces users to pay a validation fee before they can list items for sale. Once the fee is paid the user is free to sell items on your site, a verification seal is also displayed next to the users profile to signify their status to other users.

E-Mail or Admin activation Users must activate their account via email before selling or bidding. You can also choose to approve all new users via the admin area before they are able to use the site. Referred By Select who/where referred you to the site. Full Registration Form In-depth registration form captures all the vital information on your new user.. Automatically generated pin The automatically and random pin number ensures the registration page is being filled in by a live person and not a third party script. Auction listing features Easy category selection Sellers can easily select the right category for their item. Where to list Users with a store can select whether to list their new item in their store, auction only or both (available if seller has an active store) Item title Sellers can enter their own item title Custom Fields Sellers can enter their selection for any custom fields. Custom fields can be setup via the admin area and allow you to customise the item listing process. If your auction site is being targeted towards a specific marketplace you can add fields relevant to that market. For example a car auction site would be able to easily add fields to request the seller to confirm the engine size, car age, colour and mileage etc

Auto-Relist Sellers can select whether or not to have their item automatically re-listed, they can select whether the item is listed if sold, un-sold and also how many times the items should be re-listed.

Vouchers Users with a voucher can redeem it during the listing process. Vouchers can be setup and managed via the admin area. Item descriptions Sellers can use HTML or plain text in their item description or enjoy the benefit of our new WYSIWYG editor. Custom Start & End Time Sellers can choose to list right away or choose a custom start time for their item. A custom end time can also be set.

HTML Editor Create HTML listings directly through PHP Pro Bid with our built in WYSIWYG editor Picture upload or remote hosting Sellers can upload pictures of their items to be displayed next to their listing. The admin user can edit the amount of allowed pictures. Users can also choose to use remotely hosted images with their auction Media upload In addition to images users can upload one media file (.wmv/.avi)

Quick or Full Listing Sellers in a hurry can select the "Quick Listing" option which removes all of the non-mandatory fields from the listing process. Two types of Listing Sellers can sell in standard auction format or Dutch format which is ideal when listing several of the same items in a single listing. Reserve price Sellers can add a reserve price to their auction. Buy It Now Sellers can enter a Buy It Now price.

Listing enhancements Sellers can enhance their listing by:- Featuring on the home page Featuring on the category page Adding bold text Adding a highlighted colour band The admin user can charge for these extras via the admin area. Auction duration The seller can select how long the auction should run for.

The admin user can set the credit limit any user can go to. Once the credit limit is reached the users account is blocked until they make payment. The admin user can also send any invoice requesting payment. You can also give any user free credit or debit their account. This allows sellers to lists items without having to pay each time. Overall it works like eBay. PAY AS YOU GO FEATURES:- Users pay fees on demand. For example when listing an auction the seller must pay their fees before the item is listed. If you enable Pay As You Go the system will forward the seller to the relevant payment page and prompt them to pay the listing fees. If the seller fails to pay the listing fee the auction isn't listed. The end of auction fee works slightly differently. When a sellers successfully sells an item the buyers contact details are withheld until they login into the members area and pay the end of auction fee. Once it's paid the buyers details are forwarded to the seller.
