WEB TRAFFIC SPREADER Advertising online can be an expensive business, with quality solo ads often costing up to a hundred dollars or more. And quite often those ads just don't perform as well as you might have hoped. But without advertising, your online business does not get traffic it needs. So, what should you do to reduce costs and risks of online advertising? The trick is simple. Find other webmasters that sell something similar, and split the cost of advertising with them. With Web Traffic Spreader, it's quick and easy to apply this solution to any website you own. It's a simple script that sends visitors to a web address chosen from a set of web addresses that you specify. It doesn't matter if you have one partner or twenty. The script will equally split the visitors between all the websites. Just enter the set of links into the script set up tool as shown below. The tool will create a new script file that you upload to your website. Now just send all your traffic to the web address of the script. Tags: web
